"Meet Jerry Holl, An Untrained Cyclist Who Pedaled His Way From Alaska to Mexico in 51-Days"

Award-winning true story tells how a fifty-seven-year-old inexperienced and untrained distance cyclist pedaled his way solo across two countries, encountering "everything weird and wondrous North America had to offer"

Jerry quit his corporate career at age fifty-seven to embark on an epic adventure on a bike he had no clue how to fix. With bad weather, flat tires, hair-raising roadways, and unpredictable grizzly bears, Jerry notes that only a fool would have kept going. He will reveal how his journey forever altered his life and why he embarked on it in the first place. In Downhills Don't Come Free: One Man's Bike Ride from Alaska to Mexico, Jerry chronicles his anesthetized daily corporate routine and his fear of what he calls "this living death." Limited Space: Call Sonia (949) 402-7828 or e-mail me
