

Everything You Ever Wanted to Know About Monarch Butterflies

Susie Vanderlip

Wednesday, January 27 at 2:00 p.m. Via Zoom

Susie Vanderlip is a Monarch Butterfly Citizen Scientist, raising hundreds then testing, tagging and releasing them. Dedicated to saving them from extinction, she serves as southern California's Monarch Conservation Specialist. An accomplished professional speaker, Susie was inducted into the NSA's Speakers Hall of Fame.

Susie's delightful Zoom presentation, Everything You Ever Wanted to Know About Monarch Butterflies, is filled with photos, videos, and anecdotal personal stories about the complex life cycle of monarch butterflies. Learn how to create a butterfly garden and about issues related to milkweed, migration, predators and the impact of climate change.

Great Raffle Prizes!
